2019-2020 VERIFICATION OF DEFAULT/OVERPAYMENT RESOLUTION

Your financial aid application indicates that you either have one or more defaulted student loan (s) and/or you have a grant overpayment. To determine which issue applies to you, please review your financial aid history. See page 2 for instructions on reviewing your financial aid history.

Section 1 – Default Status

Check off which item applies to you and provide the documentation noted.

- My defaulted loan(s) have been resolved, attached is a copy of my letter that indicates the loans have been paid in full or that I have made the necessary payments on my defaulted loan(s).

- I have repaid my grant overpayment and attached is a copy of the letter from the school to which I owed that indicates that the grant overpayment has been repaid.

Once you have your documentation to show that your issue is resolved, complete this form and attach the requested documentation.

Section 2 – Certification and Signature

By signing this worksheet I certify that all of the information reported on this worksheet is complete and correct. The student must sign this worksheet. If married, the spouse’s signature is optional.

WARNING: If you purposely give false or misleading information on this worksheet, you may be fined, sentenced to jail, or both.

Log into www.fafsa.gov, and read the COMMENT section of your 2019-2020 Student Aid Report (SAR).

Your SAR may include one or more of the comments listed below:

- The National Student Loan Data System (NSLDS) indicates that you are in default on one or more federal student loans. You are not eligible to receive any federal student aid until you resolve any loan default(s).
- The National Student Loan Data System (NSLDS) indicates that you have received one or more overpayments of federal student aid funds. You are required by law to repay any federal student aid funds received for which you were not entitled. You are not eligible to receive any federal student aid until you resolve your overpayment(s).
- The National Student Loan Data System (NSLDS) indicates that you are in default on one or more federal student loans and that you received one or more overpayments of federal student aid funds. You are not eligible to receive any federal student aid until these items have been resolved.

Look up your financial aid history information on www.nsls.ed.gov (create a new account if necessary).

Contact the agency/agencies to determine the options you have to clear your default status on your student loans.

Contact the Financial Aid Office of the school(s) that you received the grant overpayment from to determine how you can clear your overpayment status.

Once you have your documentation to show that your issue is resolved, complete the “default/overpayment” resolution form and provide the requested documentation.
